WHY IS BY CONTRACTOR

There is a nicety here that the ams teur grammarians may whet their wits on. To the player of the Bank wits on. To the player of the Bank-ers team sending in the first correct answer a prize of one prune will be given. Oh, the ball game. The cor-rect answer to the chestnut is the story of the game. In the first half of the first the Colts waltred around the meadow six times and in the first half of the second, they two-stepped it four times, making ten times ring-around-the-rosy.

Ferguson was unable to control his arm in the first two innings and gave the passes like an advance agent of a sh circus. Finding himself unable to put the curve balls across, he started the curve balls across, be started to the curve balls across the feet curve balls acro plate, pills that had the diray stuff on them and while the Colts accepted them, after the second inning no scores were made. The seven innings were played in an bour and five minutes.

"Red" Critchley got "Red" Champion bunted along third base line for a single, sending Critchley to third. Champion took second on a wild throw. "Red" Boyle flew out to short. "Red" Kelly walk Critchley scored on a passed balled. Critchley scored on a passet Kelly pit Champion going to third and Kelly pit to second. Champion scored on a massed ball and Kelly went to third. Callahan walked and stole second. Harrington was passed to first and the bases were again full. Gill got a Bu two-base hit to the left garden, scoring Kelly, Callahan and Harrington, Chappa Allen hit through third and made Fergu second on Pearce's error, scoring Pearce Gill. B. Champion flew out to the Beyer, pitcher and Allen stole third. Critch Willia ey struck out 6 runs.

Second Inning Boyle walked and stole second, Kelly popped to Williams, who dropped it, and the runner took third, Kelly scor-ing on the second-baseman's error Kelly scored on Carcher Gill's error. Callahan got a base on balls and went to second on Harrington's hit over short Callahan made third and lia:rington second on a passed ball and Allan, Callahan scored on another, Harring R.
